

Jewish Wisdom: A Dictionary of Some 4,000 Proverbs by David Potter and Gerd De Ley Quotes

For a Jew to cheat a Gentile is worse than cheating a Jew.

Better a man that hides his folly than one who hides his wisdom!

Wives save men from sin.

A gathering of the wicked is an evil for them and an evil for the world.

A woman's beauty lies in her hair.

Moral transgressions are worse than ritual transgressions.

God did not create woman from man's head, that he should command her; nor from his feet, that she should be his slave; but from his side, that she should be nearest his heart.

Teachers die, but books live on.

A good friend is often better than a brother.

A faultless man is possible only in a faultless world.

Inability to be enthusiastic is a sign of mediocrity.
